

EDITORIALS AND ANNOUNCEMENTS

NON-PEER REVIEW SECTION

RECENT CHANGES IN SECTION EDITORS: FRESHWATER TURTLE SECTION

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors at HCB needed to adjust editors in the Chelonian Section that deals with freshwater turtles. Several changes include:

JOHN CARR. After serving as Co-Section Editor, John needed to step down for personal reasons. He focused on papers from North America and Latin America. We thank him for his service.

Current editors will continue to be key leads:

JOHN ROE. Section Co-Editor. His geographic focus is North America.

CARLA C. EISEMBERG. Section Co-Editor. She focuses on species in Australia and Southeast Asia.

New Editors

We are happy to announce the acceptance by two distinguished herpetologists to share a new post as Co-Editors (Latin America):

CAMILA FERRARA. Research Biologist, Wildlife Conservation Society, Brazil. Ph.D. in 2015 from the National Institute for Research in the Amazon, Brazil. Her current focus is on species distribution models and spatial analyzes to assist in turtle conservation strategies in the Brazilian Amazon. Also, her research has found many turtles who are able to vocalize.

CAMILA K. FAGUNDES. Teacher, Universidade Federal do Pampa, Bagé, Brazil. Ph.D. in 2015 from the Instituto Nacional de Pesquisas da Amazônia, Brazil. She has extensive experience studying chelonians in the Amazon River basin.
